Every Candidate His Own Band Music

EW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)— music of old time melodies is citated with Governor Alfred E th and Theodore Roosevelt, in r red hot campaign for goverof the Empire state.

'herever the governor speaks, band invariably plays over and again, the lilting strains of e Sidewalks of New York." The ds have a way of playing rching Through Georgia" at es where the Republican nomitalks. This is varied with er There," a direct reference to Roosevelt's military service in nce.

ust why the banda play "March Through Georgia" for "Young ly," as he is called, no one ns to know. But it has been acted as a sort of unofficial camn music for him. Occasionally and shifts to "There Will Be a Time in the Old Town Tot," just as they played this e for his father, the former sleept when he was stumping state.

The Sidewalks of New York," r its reference to "East Side. t Side Alla Around the Town," a bearing on the Town," has a ring on the fact that Governor th was born on the New York t Side and still lives there. This g has been used in all of the ocratic nominee's gubernatorcampaigns.

TENANTS FAVORED IN THIS STATE

May Hold Over Occupancy of His Rented Living Quarters 90 Days After Lease Expires.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 29.—(AP).—In Kentucky a tenant may hold over occupancy of his rented living quarters for 90 days after expiration of his lease without binding himself for an additional year's rent.

By statute, "our state has extended to tenants a longer period during which they may hold over without binding themselves for an additional year's rent than is given perhaps any other sovereign Commission Sandidge of the Court of Appeals declared in the court's last handing down of decisions.

The respective rights of landlord and tenant in cases where the tenant has held over, has been the source of much litigation at common law, he said, writing the court's opinion holding that C. W. Gheens, owner of a Louisville flat building is entitled to $85.00 a month from Leon Abraham for from Sept. 1, 1921, to May 1, 1922, even though the flat was unoccupied.

The two had a written contract where Abraham leased the flat for a year, from May 1, 1920, to April 30, 1921, for $70.00 a month, payable in advance.

On April 14, 1921, Abraham was notified of a $15.00 monthly increase. He protested and Gheens said:

"I am getting sick and tired of this controversy about rents; you can move whenever you get good and ready; I have 101 applications for that apartment."

Abraham held over until Sept. 1, 1921, paying the increase, and then vocated. Gheens, after his apartment had remained vacant, brought the lawsuit to recover the rent up to May 1, 1922. The lower court peremptorily instructed the jury to find for the landlord which judgement was rendered. The higher court upheld this judgment.

"The precise question presented by this appeal does not see to have been before us heretofore," Commissioner Sandidge said.

Gheen's contentions were upheld. They were that "where, during the terms of the original lease, the landlord notifies the tenant that the amount of the rent will be increased in a definite amount following the expiration of the lease, the tenant, by holding over and by paying rental at the increased rate, thereby accepts landlord's terms; and although no new contract be executed by the parties by holding over more than 30 days fixed by our statute, the common law principles involved, the tenant becomes liable to landlord for an additional year's rent at the increased rate."

W. C. Wallace Heads New Party Ticket

FRANKFORT, Oct. 29. (AP) — The Commonwealth Land party, with William C. Wallace, New Jersey, and John C. Lincoln, presidential and vice-presidential nominees, respectively, with five-pointed star as ballot emblem, enters Kentucky's election with four electors. W. H. Beecher, and Joseph Quigley, and G. T. Hempelman, Louisville and G. T. Morehead, Morganfield.

Louisville voters on September 23, filed petition for placing the names of these four on the ballot Thirteen electors are allowed and the other five parties, represented in this tsat's election, have that many. John A. Goodman, chairman of the state board of election commissioners, has ruled that the Commonwealth Land party if successful would be entitled to four electoral votes.

The presidential ticket comprises the party's offering.

The party has a state ticket in Illinois and Ohio, and no congressional nominees anywhere in the country. In Illinois and Ohio nominees for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor treasurer, and attorney general, as offered.

BOMB WRECKS THE HOME OF OHIO MAYOR

Family Who Were Upstairs Sleeping Are Not Injured.

KLAN DISPUTE

Flaming Circle and Klan at Sword's Point Over Parades Which Were to Be Held in Niles on Saturday Night.

NILES, Ohio. Oct. 29.—Explosion of a bomb early today wrecked the home of mayor H. L. Kistler. Although the mayor and his family were sleeping upstairs they escaped injury. A controversy regarding the right of the Ku Klux Klan to stage a parade here Saturday afternoon has been waging for several days. Officials of the Knights of the Flaming Circle also applied for permission to parade at the same time. Their request was denied by the mayor who declared that the Klan officials had applied first. The Flaming Circle officials announced that they would parade without a permit. Mayor Kistler appealed to surrounding cities to send police in an effort to prevent possible disorders. A peace conference between the leaders of both factions last evening failed to reach an agreement it is understood.

Washington to Vote On Private Schools

TACOMA, Oct. 29. (AP)—On initiative measure to be voted on at the general election in November, causing a hot fight here and in other cities and communities of the state, proposes to close all private schools in Washington to pupils under 16 years of age. It is based on an Oregon law passed by referendum two years ago, but declared unconstitutional by the federal district court of appeals and now before the supreme court of the United States.

The public school bill, as it is called, has the active support of the Ku Klux Klan, while it is being fought by an organization called the Friends of Educational Freedom made up of men and women of various religious denominations. Should the bill become a law, it would close all church and private schools below collegiate rank. The denominations affected in this state would be the Roman Catholics, the Lutherans, Episcopalians and Seventh Day Adventists, while there are numerous military acamies for boys and private schools for girls that would be barred from receiving students under the age limit.

Initiative No. 49 has aroused as much interest as the presidential election.

Senator Ernst and Cong. Robsion Speaks at City Hall

Kentucky Senator and 11th Dist. Congressman Make Talks

GOOD AUDIENCES

Senator Ernst Also Speaks at Big Gathering of Voters at A. M. E. Church Following City Hall Address.

A crowded hall and appreciative audience greeted Senator Ernst and Congressman Robsion last night, when two of the best campaign talks of the year were made Both speakers are not unknown to Middlesboro audiences and their talks were punctuated with liberal applause as the speakers made poin after point in their arguments.

Senator Ernst led off with a half hour talk which was followed by an hour's address by his colleague in the lower house. The Senator's talk was convincing and withal, humorous. He paid a tribute to the people of the 11th Congressional district for their sterling republicanism and took advantage of the occasion to thank them for the vote given him when a candidate for senator, as the 11 district was the deciding factor in the campaign.

Senator Ernst said that while the vote from the 11th district was good, only about two-thirds of the vote of the district was out. He offered an American flag as a prize to each and every precinct in Bell county that would show a 90 per cent republican vote out at the coming election. As there are 46 precincts in the county, he said he would be glad to buy 46 flags.

The speaker paid a tribute to President Coolidge, both as to his record as a public servant and in home-life. Mr. Ernst gave an intimate picture of the Coolidge home life of the plain New England farmer boy and his relation to his family and to public questions.

After his talk in the city hall, Senator Ernst addressed a highly appreciative audience at the A. M E. Church for nearly an hour.

Mr. Robsion's talk entered into fundimentals of the campaign. The Socialist menace in the LaFollette candidacy, the tariff, railroad government ownership and other questions of vital importance before the voters was ably discussed.

The speaker brought ou the effects of free trade on the mine, the farm, the manufacturer and commerce in general. The attitude of Mr. LaFollette's vote and attitude on the immigration bill, one of the poignant matters to come before congress for years, was brought under the full calcium of criticism. In other words, when a matter affecting American labor more vitally, than any other—foreign immigration—was before congress, Mr. LaFollette's voice and vote was lacking to forward the measure. Further, the Wisconsin senator's attitude was governed solely by the fact of the big foreign vote in Wisconsin which combined with the Socialistic taint in that state, has sent LaFollette to the upper house of congress time after time.

Mr. Robsion reminded the colored voters who were present in

SUMMARY OF POLITICS IN FOUR STATES

LaFollette's Name Is Barred From the Ticket In California.

FIND A LOOPHOLE

Washington Interested In Parochial School Issue, Oregon Has Quiet Fall and Montana Talks of Senator Wheeler.

CALIFORNIA—The campaign of presidential candidates in California has bought national attention through the decision of the state supreme court on barring the 13 La Follette-Wheeler electors from the ballot. The court held, four to three, that since the La Follette ticket was without a party organization in the state and that its electors, strictly speaking, were not public officers but messengers only, it could not legally go on the ballot. The decision aroused a storm of protest from the Wisconsin senator's supporters, and they attempted unsuccessfully to obtain a rehearing of the case. A way was found, however, for the voters to cast their ballots for La Follette and Wheeler on the Socialist ticket. Anticipating an adverse decision, the Socialist party, in convention at Sacramento on Sept. 16, declined to name a list of electors. When the supreme court announced its interpretation of the state election laws, the Socialists reconvened and named 13 registered Socialists who pledged themselves to the candidacy of La Follette and Wheeler.

WASHINGTON— The general election campaign in Washington has been divided in interest between the presidential contest and a bill offered by the Ku Klux Klan to abolish private and parochial schools. The Klan bill, put before the people's by initiative, was similar to one passed in Oregon and awaiting the verdict of the United States Supreme Court after being declared invalid in federal district and circuit tribunals. Colonel Roland H. Hartley was nominated for governor by the dominant party in the state, the Republican. All five congressmen were nominated to succeed themselves. In the district a contest was foreshadowed between Congressman

ANOTHER MAMOTH VOTE IS POLLED IN TUESDAY'S CONTEST

7,100 Votes Cast Tuesday In American Legion Contest.

VOTE IS GROWING

Miss Katie Lyman Polls Largest Vote, Miss Verdie Hurst Is Next and Miss Mattingly Makes Third Largest Gain.

Seventy-one hundred votes cast Tuesday in the American Legion Popularity Contest which is the largest single day's voting with the exception of Saturday's vote This shows how interest in the voting is growing, but don't think that any one is so far ahead that they can quit working or that their friends can quit. No one is very far ahead yet, so keep at it all the time. Miss Katie Lyman polled the heaviest vote today with 2,090 which puts Miss Lyman in third place. Miss Verdie Hurst has the next largest, with 2050, and Miss Mary Mtatingly was third with 1755. The Legion boys are very well satisfied with the way the people are voting and the interest they are taking in this contest and think the votes will come in bigger and bigger as the time gets shorter, but they believe the votes should be heavier than they are at the present time. And think possibly the people as a whole don't realize the honor they are giving these girls in making them queen of Middlesboro on Armistice day. Think this over and then get behind your choice of the candidates and put her over the top.

The standing of the candidates at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening follows:

ACTORS BEFORE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

Given the Spotlight While Bankers Cool Their Heels.

MEET COOLIDGE

Is Suggested That Republican Money Had Been Used to Secure Favorable Skits for President Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.(AP)—While bankers and captains of industry waited in the wings for further questioning, the senate campaign funds investigating committee switched the spotlight to a delegation of actors who recently called at the White House and breakfasted with President Coolidge. Rhinelander Waldo, former police commissioner of New York said that the Coolidge non partisan organization which he heads paid the expense of the actors during the trip to Washington. Gilson Gardner, of the Washington Newspaper committee heard the suggestion that republican money had been used to secure the use of lines favorable to Coolidge in various vaudville skits. Gardner supporters of LaFollette said that the theatre corporation had approached him with such an offer for the LaFollette organization at the cost of $50,000.00.

Dutch Have Corner On Quinine Supply

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The tightest foreign monopoly ever inflicted upon the United States has been discovered.

The department of commerce announced that The Netserlands has cornered the world's production of quinine and that ninety per cent of the crop harvested on Dutch estates is monopoly controlled.

"A quinine pill is one of the essentials of American civilization, used as a panacea for a lot of troubles ranging from the well known "bad cold" to swamp fever Compared to it, the foreign monopolistic control of sisal and rubber is a mere nothing.

Aside from the Dutch monopolized in chops callsays—a tree from which quinine is made—the major portion of the remaining crop is financed by British and Japanese capital, according to the department of commerce.

The quinine tree is indigenous to South America, especially Peru, but sixty years ago the Netherlands government introduced it into Java. In less than sixty years practically the entire world supply was produced in that colony in Sumatra.

"The history of this industry has a striking parallel in the introduction of the rubber producing plant ito Java, Julius Klein, director of foreign commerce, declared. "In a brief period of years, through a policy of scientific cultivation and conservation a new world monopoly was overcome entirely by intensified Asiatic cultivation.

Horse Association Talks Winter Races

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29.—(AP).—Members of the Thoroughbred Horse Association met in semi-annual meeting here today to discuss offerings of winter race meetings, breeding of thoroughbreds, and other matters.

Col. E. R. Bradley, president, invited managers of winter race tracks to the gathering. The membership includes prominent horses of the Blue Grass.

SILK IN TELEPHONE CORDS

The cocoons of 100,000,000 silkworms are used each year in the production of the telephone equipment manufactured by a single American company. The cord leading from the base of every desk telephone alone requires 21 spools of silk. Many a cocoon, when unwound, yields a fibre more than four times as long as the woolworth Building is high.

WASHINGTON LIFE DRAWS MEMBERS

Of 32 Senators Whose Terms Expire Next March, 24 Wish to Succeed Themselves.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Congressional life must be pleasant at least the number of senators and representatives seeking re-election in November would indicate as much. Of the 32 senators whose term expires next March 3, 24 are candidates to succeed themselves. In the House approximately nine out of every 10 members desire to retain their seats. Including the incumbents, 95 candidates are in the field for the senatorial togas to be handed out at the polls on November 4th.

Senator Fernald, republican, Maine, is the only republican senator to be sure of his seat for another six years, having been re-elected last September by the voters of his state, where balloting is carried out about six weeks earlier than in other parts of the nation.

Democratic senators practically assured of another term, as they are unopposed in the coming election, are Harris, Georgia; Harrison, Mississippi; Ransdell, Louisianna; Robinson, Arkansas, and Sheppard, Texas.

Republican senators who must fight for their seats are Borah, of Idaho; Brookhart, Iowa; Bursum New Mexico; Capper, Kansas; Couzens, Michigan; Edge, New Jersey; Keyes, New Hampshire; McNary, Oregon; Norris, Nebraska; Phipps, Colorado and Warren, Wyoming.

Democratic senators confronted with opposition are Glass, Virginia Heflin, Alabama; Simmons, North Carolina; Stanley, Kentucky; Walsh, Massachsusetts and Walsh Montana. The Democratic candidates from southern states, however, are regarded as practically assured of being returned to the senate, as nomination is considered equivalent to election.

Senator Johnson, Farm Labor, Minnesota, is opposed by four candidates.

Two candidates are contesting for the seat of the late Senator Colt, republican, Rhode Island. Both are seeking election to the unexpired term which ends on March 3, and to the full term that runs for six years from March 4.

Irish Plan For a Sugar Beet Factory

DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—(AP).—The North Cork Industrial Development Committee is planing for the erection of a sugar beet factory at a cost of $2,500,000. A big financial house is reported to be willing to back the project on condition that landowners will agree to place 4,000 acres under sugar beet during the first year, and 8,000 in 16 succeeding years. Seeds and manures will be supplied at cost price, and need not be paid for till the crop is harvested.

Labor Party Is Led By Johns

FRANKFORT Oct. 29. (AP) — The Socialist-Labor Party, with Frank T. Johns and Verdie L. Reynolds, presidential an dvice-presidential nominees, is represented on the Kentucky election ballot with 13 electors, all from Louisville, under the party device of a working man's arm holding a hammer.

There are no congressional nominees in the state. The party has nominees for the senate in Illinois, Michigan, and Oregon, and nominees for the national house in these states and in Missouri.

The party has state tickets in Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, and Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Oregan and Washington.

The electors in Kentucky:

Thomas Sweeney, Herman Hornung, James W. O'Hearn, Ludwig Fleischer, Charles W. L. Marrett, Jacob Fischer, John A. Krouse Warren S. Ross, Emil Guth, John Ulrich, Samuel J. Ferguson, William Krouse and Bernard J. A. Wibels.

150 Arrested — Judge Frees Paraders. — Sheriff Asks For State Troops.

MARCHED TO TOWN

Sheriff States Women Have Asked For Protection—County Attorney Moves For Dismissal of the Case Against Klan.

HAZARD, Oct. 29.—Although crosses were burned at Lothair, a mile from here the other night in another klan demonstration, Sheriff Tolbert Holliday has not yet carried out his threat to ask the governor for troops. He said today he believed the situation had improved and it might not be necessary to seek military aid.

HAZARD, Ky., Oct. 29.—The arrest by Sheriff Tolbert Holliday of 150 alleged Klansmen and their subsequent dismissal is responsible for a situation here which, unless it improves, may cause the Sheriff to ask Governor Fields for State troops, he declared tonight.

Sheriff Holliday, with Deputies John Smith and McKinley Combs, and James Gilkerson, railroad detective, made the arrests yesterday at Lothair, a mile from here, after receiving word that members of the Ku Klux Klan would parade there.

At the command of Sheriff Holliday, the paraders marched to Hazard, where bond was furnished for their appearance today. Among the prisoners were Justice Begley and Thomas Wilder, Hazard policemen.

In county court today the judge did not place any charges against the prisoners and all were dismissed on motion of the county attorney and Commonwealth's Attorney Napier. As a result, Sheriff Holliday issued the following statement:

I am unable to account for the action of the court and the county and commonwealth attorney's dismissing the klansmen today without a hearing, when all of the men arrested were in the very act of violating the law. Two little girls were run into the river and many other women and children appeared to the sheriffs to give them protection.

Below Hazard a fiery cross was burned last night and the railroad section foreman there was notified to get rid of all negroes on his force. At different points in Perry county, negroes are being threatened by the klan.

It is my purpose to enforce the law to the best of my ability, treating klansmen just like any other violators of the law. Unless the situation here improves, I feel that it will be to the best interest of all the people to call on Governor Fields for State troops, to cope with the situation.

Commonwealth's Attorney Napier tonight said:

It is all untrue. Sheriff Holliday is the only one doing any talking. I asked for the dismissal of the men this morning because not one citizen from Lothair appeared to testify against them. I do not know of any threats made against the Sheriff, but I do know that Hazard is as peaceful, if not more so than ever.

Sheriff Holliday has been actively fighting the klan. I know that since the klan was organized there is less moonshining and dry law violation.

Many Eligible For Jockey Club Stakes

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29.—(AP).—Of the original 448 nominations for the Kenticky Jockey Club stakes to be run off Saturday at Churchill Downs, 126 are still eligible, Matt J. Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club, said today.

The annual running will decide the year's two-year-old championship and name the winter choice for the 1925 Kentucky Derby.

It will soon be time to [illegible] wishing it was summer [illegible]

"SHOOT HIM"

"Any republican who don't encourage his women folks to go to the polls and vote should be shot." This statement was made by Senator Ernst in his talk last night. The Senator said it in a humorous vein, but beneath the humor was a vein of common sense that vitally affects every citizen.

Women in the matter of franchise have a full legal standing under the constitution with men. It is a duty of every wife, mother and others of a voting age, to vote. The ballot was placed in their hands as a measure for good not to be ignored as something to be idly regarded.

Voting is a duty and should never be a task. American citizenship is the highest privilege in the world. The vote carries with it the full measure of citizenship. Without the vote the United States cannot have good government. Every woman should be a committee of one to see that her husband, if she has one, gets to the polls next Tuesday. She should also see that she herself drops the cares of household on that day and attends the election with her good man.

Her family is affected by her vote; the common good of the community where she is rearing her children is affected; the government under which her family win their daily bread is affected: for with all our prosperity and luxuries, daily bread is the leading motif of the family, no matter where that family reside.

Good lady, good American citizen—vote on election day. It is your privilege and your duty to your family, your home and your country. Vote on election day—and see that your husband votes, or "shoot him."

ISMS VS. COMMON SENSE

The real issue this year is LaFolletteism and Bryanism vs. Coolidge and common sense. On the democratic ticket the only nominee who has any chance of election, Governor Charles W. Bryan, is the heir of Brother Bill's political nostrums, as he was once a collabortaor on "The Commoner" in sending them to the public. On the third ticket Senator LaFollette is the enthusiastic peddler of the political panaceas which he has been compounding for the last two or three decades.

LaFollette has the freer hand and is therefore the more shameless. He says he is going to help the farmers and the community as a whole, if he gets into the White House, by raising the pay of Government employees, increasing pensions of all sort, repealing the present bonus law and substituting a cash bonus by preparing the way for government ownership of the railroads and government operation of wtaer power, at unnecessarily immensely increased cost to the taxpayer, and by resetting Federal Reserve system, the greatest single guaranty at present of the nation's financial stability.

The LaFollette program is, in brief, to pledge every dollar in the treasury and every dollar that may be scraped into it in payment for minority bloc votes. He will do the spending, his supporters will reap the benefits and the rest of us will pay the piper. And to perpetuate such a system of spoliation he would destroy the reviewing power of the supreme court.

It is a good thing to have LaFolletteism frankly revealed as this sort of ghost dancing. President Coolidge's candidacy in its essence is an appeal from crude group selfishness and ancient hysterias to the saving qualities of patriotism and common sense.—New York Herald-Tribune.

GOOD TIMES OR HARD TIMES?

Mr. LaFollette, who was once a Protectionist, now says he is in favor of a drastic reduction in the Tariff. Mr. Davis is a Free-Trader. Mr. Bryan, who would probably become President if Coolidge should be defeated, is a Free-Trader. So there is no hope or surety of continued Proetction unless the Republicans are successful on November 4th.

We have tried Free Trade, which is what Davis and Bryan and LaFollette want, because they want things to be cheaper. Yet what matters it how cheap anything is if we have not the money with which to buy? If we are to let in free of duty, the cheaply made foreign articles, then we will have to do one of two things, close our mills or reduce wages to the foreign level.

If Coolidge is defeated it means a Free Trade congress and a sure and quick enactment of a tariff like the Underwood Act. In fact it is probable that the Underwood Free Trade tariff would at once replace the present tariff without hearings or argument. This crisis is most imminent. We face idleness and a destruction of our wonderful American home market which means also ruination for our farmers. Poverty and want and sorrow would follow and hard times prevail with all the failures and disasters that hard times bring.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY J. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—When his fellow townsman of Birmingham, Alabama, burned Senator Oscar Underwood in effigy the other night, and then buried his political body with elaborate ceremonies, they were simply venting a feeling of hostility and anger that has become general throughout the Democratic party.

For if the Democratic party is to lose the election this year—and the leaders privately admit that now seems inevitable—Underwood will be regarded as the man who first greased the skids under Democratic hopes.

It was Underwood, as candidate for the Democratic nomination, who first raised the issue of the Ku Klux Klan.

It was Underwood's spokesman who placed his name in nomination, who first mentioned the Klan in the New York convention, thereby staging a near-riot.

And it was the issue of the Klan, thus dragged in, which not only deadlocked the convention for more than 100 ballots, arrayed delegates into hostile camps and thwarted the nomination of most-favored candidates, but which, is now held responsible for the defections which becloud the party's prospect for victory.

NOT in a decade had Democratic expectation of victory been so confident as it was this year, prior to the New York convention.

Every factor necessary for a winning campaign seemed to be at hand. The administration in power had been involved in one of the biggest scandals in national history. All the ammunition thought to be needed to blow the opposition sky-high, and more, was stored away. It wasn't going to be a campaign—it was to be a walkaway.

That was the situation, even after the Republican convention at Cleveland. Coolidge's nomination was not merely expected, it was wanted by the Democrats.

THEN Underwood and his Alabama delegates threw the Klan issue into the New York arena.

Party harmony went by the board. Party unity was torn to shreds. It was no longer a convention of Democrats, met to pick a Democrat for president. It was a convocation of Klan and anti-Klan adherents.

When the fever had run its course and the assemblage finally got down to the selection of a candidate, all the enthusiasm and vigor that should have been saved for the campaign had been dissipated. Neither side had won a victory. Neither side was satisfied. And neither side cared two whoops whether the candidate they had finally nominated won or not.

TO this situation, directly can be attributed the rough and rocky road of the Davis managers in making progress with his campaign. From an open road and a cloudless sky the situation changed almost overnight to an almost impassable path overhung with clouds and threats of storm.

While resentment against Underwood, as the man who dragged in the Klan issue and directly precipitated the following fight, is perhaps keenest, scarcely less keen is the feeling against others of the "favorite son" group of candidates who, in the hope of a lucky break in their favor, refused to release their delegates and thus contributed to the long-drawn deadlock and its growing animosities.

Just what would have happened at any particular time, had any one or two of these candidates withdrawn his name and started the dissolution of the deadlock, is a favorite subject for speculation around Democratic headquarters.

Everything might have been so different!

But it didn't happen—and from roseate confidence the party leaders have now descended to the stage of hope without expectation.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT some people think the automobile "a rich man's chariot" and try to soak the owners every chance they get.

THAT a new source of revenue for some "high-binders" is soaking the automobilist three or four prices for the privilege of parking his car in a safe place.

THAT many keepers of parks, resorts and kindred other places, are seeing this new source of revenue and grabbing the opportunity, knowing that people will have to stand for being held up.

THAT there is no better advertising for a resort, a place of amusement or a city, than to have reasonable priced or free safe parking, so the people can leave their cars and go on their business or pleasure without worrying about their car.

THAT parking is one problem that cities have to face and it's a problem that must receive attention.

SOME PEOPLE know the difference between fair prices, petty larceny and highway robbery. Some don't. Drastic means should be used to protect the automobile visitor and to see that only fair prices are charged for parking service.

"Praying Colonels" To Meet Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 29.—(AP).—The University of Kentucky football team and Centre College Colonels meet Saturday in the annual classic to determine the championship of the state. Centre has held the championship the last eight years.

Both teams have suffered one defeat. Centre lost to West Virginia in New York last Saturday while State bowed its head before Washington and Lee recently. These are their only defeats. The Wildcats outwitted the University of Louisville, Georgtown and Sewanee colleges.

Centre's total point score is 56 to 13 in three games. State has 85 to 10 in four frays.

Anticipation of a large crowd was met today with erection of the temporary bleachers at the west end of Stoll field while six sections of the new stadium, holding 10,000 persons, have been completed.

Jews Plant Many Trees In Palestine

JERUSALEM, Oct. 28.—(AP).—The treeless slopes and valley of Palestine are gradually being reforested, according to an official government statement just issued, which states that nearly 3,000,000 trees and 1,000,000 vines have been planted in the Holy Land between 1920 and 1924, the first four years of the administration of Sir Herbert Samuel as British High Commissioner. Palestine became denuded of its forests owing to Turkish misrule and neglect, says the statement, which resulted in the abrasion of some of the best soil from the hillsides and in the accumulation of malaria swamps in the valleys.

The work of afforestation began 10 years ago when the first Jewish settlements were founded, but received a great impetus after the war when, under the British mandate, greater opportunities for development were opened to Jews. The government department of agriculture planted 1,295,062 trees during the past four years; the Palestine Foundation Fund and the Jewish National Fund, affiliated agencies of the World Zionist Organization, 672,011 trees; the Supreme Moslem Council, 14,700; while the balance were planted by individuals, mostly settlers on the Jewish agricultural colonies.

One of the first trees to be planted in Palestine was the Australian eucalyptus which is now called by the Arabs the "Jew's Tree," owing to its great power of absorbing water, the eucalyptus has been very useful in the draining of marshes, thus promoting the health of the country.

SUMMARY OF POLITICS

Sam B. Hill, Waterville, Democrat, and J. Edward Ferguson, Wenatchee, Republican.

OREGON—Four sets of presidential electors, numbering five men each, have headed the presidential ballot in Oregon this fall. Besides the Republican and Democratic candidates, there were La Follette and Wheeler, independent; Johns and Reynolds, Socialist-Labor. The campaign on the whole has been quiet. One of the episodes has been the activity of three state officials holding appointive office under the Democratic governor, Walter M. Pierce, at a convention held in behalf of the La Follette Wheeler ticket. These three officials were named as members of a La Follette-Wheeler committee, but two of them withdrew when attention was called to a state law which forbids appointive state officers from serving on a political committee. The third official resigned his state job and continued to serve on the committee. There were four candidates for United States Senator. In each of the three congressional districts the incumbent had a fight on his hands. The state is not electing a governor this year, but other state offices had to be filled.

MONTANA—The Montana campaign has been complicated by the fact that La Follette's running mate, Burton K. Wheeler, was a senator from Montana, elected as a Democrat. Senator Wheeler, who has four years of his six-year term to serve, was referred to by resolution in the recent state Democratic convention as "following what appears to be a hopeless quest." Senator Thomas J. Walsh, prosecutor in the senate oil investigating committee, engaged in a spirited contest for re-election against Frank B. Linderman, Republican. Senator Walsh has taken the stump, defending his record during his 12 years in the senate. In the state election Governor Joseph M. Dixon, Republican, has been opposed by J. E. Erickson, Democrat, the latter running on an anti-klan platform.

Public Eats and Plays Too Much

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP).—The British public golfs too much and eats too much, according to Dr. Leonard Williams, a Harley Street specialist and a corresponding member of the American Climatological Society.

As for golf, the game has a bad moral effect, according to the physician. "A man loses his match," says Dr. Williams, "and, as a result, is unhappy about it, is disgruntled, is bad-tempered. His thoughts are on the next game which he vows he will win. And too often he is discontented until he does win."

The way the English take their food is almost as disturbing to Dr. Williams as the way they take their golf. "It is not realized by the public that it takes as much to digest an English meal as it does to take a five-mile walk. People eat far too much. The day is started with a heavy breakfast; a full meal lunch follows; then there is tea, accompanied by scones and cakes; and finally there is dinner, running to several courses. This is far more than can be properly digested.

ERNST AND ROBSION SPEAK

strength of the traditional friendship of the republican party. He said that it had never fallen them and would not in any crisis of their racial affairs. He showed how the anti-lynching bill was defeated in the upper house of congress by democratic votes from southern states, where the negro has been disfranchised and that without constitutional warrant.

Mr. Robsion's talk was rough hewn and right to the point. No tricks of oratory were indulged in and the speaker went to the hearts, minds and common sense of his audience with every point made.

RESULTS THAT LAST

Proven by Middlesboro People.

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy without temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Middlesboro.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills year ago and now makes his endorsement even stronger.

E. T. Marcum, pro. shoe shop, 218 Lathbury Ave., residence 13th Street near E. Cumberland Ave., Middlesboro, says: "My kidneys were weak and acted so freely I was bothered day and night. I was weak and run down. Doan's Pills toned me up in fine shape." (Statement given March 16, 1921.)

On February 7, 1924, Mr. Marcum said: "I have had no trouble with my kidneys since recommending Doan's Pills before. The cure has lasted."

NOTICE

The City of Middlesboro, Kentucky, will until Friday, November 14th, 1924 at 10 o'clock a. m. receive sealed competitive bids for the construction and improvement by paving the following streets at large, and public ways of the city ordered to be improved by ordinance, found of record in Minute Book "H" at pages 301 to 307 inclusive, etc., of the proceedings of the commissioners, and for laying sidewalks, curbing and guttering and placing sewers thereon at such places as may be directed by the commissioners.

Competitive bids for the paving of said streets shall be in accordance with specifications heretofore adopted by the City and shall be of Kentucky Rock Asphalt or other rock asphalt, either upon macadam base or upon concrete base, reinforced concrete paving; oil penetration or other bituminous surface finish upon macadam; or other type of hard surface paving equally as good; for re-surfacing and putting finished hard surface upon streets now improved only by water bound macadam.

The streets are as follows:

TWENTIETH STREET: From South curb line of Chester Avenue to Railroad right of way, 20 feet wide.

EXETER AVENUE: From West curb line of Twentieth Street to East curb line of Twenty-first street, 30 feet wide.

NINETEENTH STREET: From South curb line of Cumberland Avenue to North curb line of Chester Avenue, 10 feet wide.

TWENTIETH STREET: From South curb line of Cumberland Avenue to North curb line of Chester Avenue, 40 feet wide.

Each bidder must deposit certified check for $5,000.00 with his bid to be forfeited in the event such bidder, if successful, fails to consummate and execute a contract with surety thereon for the execution of such work as may be awarded to him.

And each bidder must in his bid agree to accept the ten-year payment plan installment bonds to be issued for such improvement by the City in full discharge and payment for the same and must show satisfactory financial ability to complete and perform the aforesaid improvement work.

The successful bidder when contract is made shall execute bond in the sum of $5,000.00 for a period of five years to indemnity the City against any inferior or defective work which may by oversight have been accepted.

The commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

MOUNTAIN FIRES ARE RAGING

RICHMOND, Oct. 29—"Everywhere in Southwest Virginia the mountains are on fire," said C. S. Mullen, chief engineer of the state higway department on his return from a week's inspection tour of the roads in the territory west of Roanoke.

With dry weather prevailing in the Southwest, the ranges in that section are being burned over by fires which travel fast on windy days and move in a desultory sort of way on days of calm, according to Mr. Mullen. With smoke towering to the heavens some of the mountains look like volcanoes. Entire valleys are filled with smoke. Large parts of many counties at night show up in the glare of the fires.

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL TO VETERAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29.—Gen. William Birch Haldeman, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, died at the emergency hospital at Churchill Downs at 3:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, a short time after being stricken with a severe heart attack. Up to a few minutes before that General Haldeman seemingly had been as well as he had been for several weeks. About a fortnight ago, while speaking at the state convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy at Frankfort, he suffered a slight fainting spell, but had rallied from it, and continued his voluminous work at his office daily, where he carried on the immense correspondence involved in the position he upheld as head of the remaining 10,000 survivors of the Confederacy.

General Haldeman's death was surprisingly sudden, and a profound shock to his thousands of friends and acquaintances, many of whom had been conversing with him only a short time before the last fatal illness came upon him. Gen. J. P. Bernard, his devoted personal friend, and who as adjutant general of the Confederate veterans was his right hand man in all of the affairs of that organization, was with him, in General Haldeman's box only a few minutes before the seizure.

DIX RIVER DAM EMPLOYE HURT

HARRODSBURG, Ky.—L. C. Hancock, a construction boss at the Dix river dam, was seriously injured when the coupe in which he was driving toward Lexington was struck by a bus of the Red Star bus lines, Lexington, and knocked off the road.

The injured man was taken to the Rice Memorial Hospital in an unconscious condition where his injuries were pronounced serious, but not fatal.

The bus was driven by Bob English, of Lexington. It is believed Hancock was driving on the wrong side of the road and was forced into a ditch by the impact when the cars came together. The bus also left the road, giving passengers, including several women and children a severe shaking up.

The bus was coming toward Harrodsburg from Lexington, the accident occuring just outside of that city of the Lexington pike. There were no witnesses except the passengers on the bus. The position of the cars after the wreck tended to exonerate the driver of the bus.

After Them The Deluge"

How to meet the ever-increasing cost of operating our Government is a problem which confronts the American people today. Taxes "pay the piper"—from the smallest hamlet to the Nation as a whole—public expenses and salaries come from revenues derived from taxation.

When you hear a campaign orator advocating "Government Ownership" of the great transportation lines—stop and think what such a condition would bring about. Where will the Government get the million dollars a day that it is now receiving in taxes from the railroads? (Total taxes paid by railroads in United States approximates 365 million dollars a year.)

To bring the matter closer home, where will the various city, county, state, and National authorities get the Eighty Million Dollars a year that is now being paid in taxes by the railroads operating in states served by the L. & N.? (See the detailed statement in the panel on the left.)

There is but one answer—these taxes must be placed as an added burden on the farmer, the business man, the merchant, the professional man and all other American citizens.

Do you, people of the South, who are now receiving under private management unsurpassed railway service, believe that the questionable benefits of Government Ownership would justify you in assuming an additional burden of not less than $30,000,000 per year for the rest of your days?

Leaves for Florida To Spend Winter

William Seswankhaus will leave tomorrow for a winter's stay in Florida returning to Middlesboro in March next Car He will go to Horse Shoe Ranch, which is near Haines City on Kleco railroad station His ranch is a large one previously owned by the Consolidated Naval Stores Company Mr Schwankhaus will handle and train the hunting dogs, and it has got topmost with the fox of the Eastern coasters, and there is not a finer Master of Hounds to hunting parties on the ranch. There is no doubt but that he will be immensely satisfied with the company and its guests since his liking for and successful handling of pedigreed dogs notably hunting dogs is known all over the southland

Sweden to Supply U. S. With Lumber

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 29.—(AP).—A new and important item may soon be added to the export trade from Sweden to America, according to statements in the press by a Swedish lumber expert, the government forester, M Juhlin Dannfelt, who has returned here after an extended tour of the United States is an exchange scholar under the auspices of the American Scandinavian Foundation.

The demands on the forest resources of America have already become so great, says Mr Juhlin Dannfelt, that a lumber shortage is being increasingly felt, especially in the eastern States Besides, the long hauls from the region of standing timber involve sufficiently heavy freight charges to make imports from over-seas advantageous Consequently a new market for swedish lumber is opening up and, in fact, a considerable number of shipments have already been made to Atlantic ports. Spruce, fir, and pine lumber, especially undressed materials, such as lath and planks, has been absorbed easily by the American market, and Swedish mills now look for a big trade along this line
